Short Review Report

Al-Shorooq Secondary Girls School Janabiyah – Northern Governorate Kingdom of Bahrain

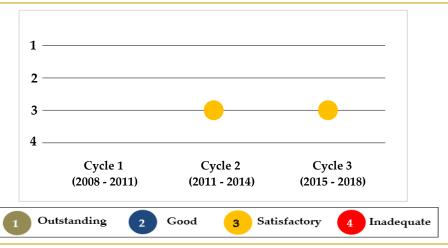

Date of Review: 15-17 October 2018 SG209-C3-R193

Introduction

The Directorate of Government Schools Reviews (DGS), which is a part of the Education & Training Quality Authority (BQA), conducted this review over three days by a team of eight reviewers. During the review, reviewers observed lessons and other activities, scrutinised students' written work and analysed the school's performance data and other documents. They spoke to the staff, students and parents. This report summarises their findings and recommendations.

☐ School's overall effectiveness 'Satisfactory'

Judgement justifications

- The accuracy and comprehensiveness of the self-evaluation is inconsistent, as are the benefits derived from its results in identifying schoolwork priorities and in developing school plans along with the implementation and monitoring mechanisms of these.
- Teachers use effective teaching and learning strategies in the good and outstanding lessons, as in the majority of the specialised literary subjects. However, the effectiveness of these strategies is only adequate in more than half of the lessons. This is due to teachers' inconsistent management of learning time and the inconsistent use
- of assessment results to meet students' academic needs, especially for the low achievers.
- There is only limited challenge to students' abilities, with a lack of consideration of differentiation in most lessons and written work.
- The proficiency rates in the majority of core and specialised subjects are high, though they are inconsistent with students' standards and with their acquisition of the basic skills in the majority of the other lessons. The least acquisition of skills is in some English lessons and mathematics.

- There is clear harmony among students, with respect to each other and to their teachers. This enhances students' inner security and gains the satisfaction of students and their parents with the school.
- The academic and personal support provided to students with disabilities is evident.

Main positive features

- The harmony among students and their feeling of inner security.
- The academic and personal support provided to students with disabilities.

Recommendations

- Implement a more accurate and comprehensive self-evaluation, and benefit from its results in identifying improvement priorities, developing action and strategic plans and monitor the implementation of the latter according to clear mechanisms.
- Further raise students' academic achievement and their acquisition of basic skills, especially in English and mathematics.
- Monitor the impact of teachers' professional development programmes on the improvement of teaching and learning, to focus more on:
  - using effective teaching strategies
  - managing learning time to ensure the best productivity
  - benefiting from assessment results in meeting students' academic needs, especially low achievers
  - challenging students' abilities, and considering differentiation in lessons and written work.
- Address the shortfall in human resources represented by a senior teacher for the commercial department, and in physical resources represented by a learning resources centre, a gym, a family education workshop and a simulation room.

☐ Capacity to improve 'Satisfactory'

Judgement justifications

- The strategic plan is effective in terms of improving the school's overall performance, but its objectives only adequately reflect the school's needs due to the variation in the accuracy and lack of comprehensiveness of the selfevaluation. This affects the
- development and monitoring of the implementation of the action plans.
- The school maintains its overall performance, with all of the review aspects being at a satisfactory level.
- Students are provided with various extracurricular activities and are

- personally and academically supported.
- The school's judgements of its levels in the Self-Evaluation Form (SEF) are inconsistent with the judgements reached by the review team in all aspects.
- The impact of the professional development programmes is inconsistent in raising the performance of teachers in lessons and therefore in the academic achievement of students.
- The school is adequately capable of encountering the challenges it faces, namely the recent appointment of the top and middle leadership, the lack of a senior teacher for the commercial department and the shortfall in physical resources represented by a learning resources centre, a gym, a family education workshop and a simulation room.
